FERRIS & BRITTON, APC

Justin Paik

I was reminded of the critical role this program, along with the participating employers, plays in providing an invaluable opportunity to each DFP fellow. As a former DFP fellow, it was both satisfying and rewarding to know that I played a role in helping our fellow get closer to fulfilling his goal.

Jesus Cisneros – California Western

Promoting diversity and inclusion in the legal profession is important to me because of the importance of setting examples for younger generations. As a young person of color, I was always motivated and inspired when I saw attorneys who looked like me and/or came from similar backgrounds. As a result, I plan to be intentional about hiring and retaining attorneys from diverse backgrounds, as well as mentoring younger attorneys and students throughout my career.
